MARYLAND BREW PUB

Thanks for picking up a copy of the fourth edition of the Maryland Brew Pub. Our industry continues to grow in strength, and we are delighted to share more news and stories from our brewing community.

The Brewers Association of Maryland represents over 60 breweries in Maryland and is assisting many start-ups through the licensing process. It's a vibrant group that meets regularly to discuss laws, regulations, agriculture and more.

We also gather breweries together throughout the year for unique events that promote and highlight the industry.

The second annual FeBREWary: Maryland Craft Beer Lovers Month was a huge success! The month-long celebration was kicked off with a toast by Governor Hogan on February 3rd at Chesapeake Brewing Company in Annapolis. The month consisted of a number of different events across the state, celebrating the craft brewing industry in Maryland. My personal highlight of the festivities was tasting all of the specially brewed "Cupid's Curse" beers. We hope this festival continues to grow, and I am very much looking forward to doing it all again next year!

This year we launched the signature event of FeBREWary, Love Thy Beer, in Silver Spring. This event gave guests an opportunity to chat with brewers and owners of local breweries in an intimate setting over seasonal ales. It was a great event for any craft beer enthusiast!

In this issue we are focusing on some summer beers and are highlighting our wonderful Southern Maryland Breweries.

We look forward to fostering the Maryland Craft Beer Industry with your support.

Cheers,

Kevin Atticks

OVERVIEW OF

Southern Maryland BREWERIES

by Brooke Clariday and Rachel Dolle

The smell of fresh steamed crab, paired perfectly with a crisp beer and Old Bay-infused fingers, makes up the rich history of Southern Maryland in the summertime. The fascination with fresh seafood and beer drew seven breweries to a home in Southern Maryland, with specialties pairing their favorite on-site pints with local seafood.

Spanning from the famous Western Shore, Southern Maryland is rich in the waterfront lifestyle. Comprised of Calvert, Charles, and St. Mary's counties, Southern Maryland is home to famous resort towns and water-based fun. Surrounded by the famous Chesapeake Bay and the Patuxent and Potomac Rivers respectively, spring and summer days in Southern Maryland allow for great selfie photo-ops, a walk along the waterfront and old-fashioned lighthouses that glisten during a sunrise. Those looking for a taste of history can enjoy getting their hands dirty and indulging in the best of Maryland: crabs and brews.

CHESAPEAKE BREWING COMPANY

Chesapeake Brewing Company, located on the water in the beautiful town of Annapolis, is owned by Carolyn and David Marquis. This venue has copious amounts of fun events, food and beers to offer. Since this is a water-oriented town, many of their brews are water-oriented as well: Marsh Mud, Oyster Stout, Tangier Dry Hopped Amber, Waterman's Soul IPA, Watch Dog Double IPA and their famous BEAT ARMY Golden Lager. Since David Marquis is a U.S Naval Academy alumni class of '85, there are specials for any other U.S Naval Academy alumni. While you are here enjoying a beer or two, their pub fare menu is a must-try with endless sharables, salads, seafoods, burgers and much more. Come join the fun.

SEAWOLF BREWERY

Seawolf Brewery, slated to open in Howard County this year, is complete with a U.S Naval Academy Board. This Navy-themed Seawolf Brewery will be paired with a "Torpedo Taproom." This taproom features eight or more craft beers, Special Edition taps, and a Seawolf Brewery food truck featuring a farm-fresh menu of small plates, handcrafted burgers and sandwiches, fresh seafood, flatbreads and house-made sausages. Along with this excitement, they are planning some very exciting unique and fun special events.

Seawolf Brewery is also opening a Chef-driven restaurant and a beer garden in downtown Annapolis, Maryland in 2017 as well. Along with having a Chef, there are plans to have a Cicerone to enhance the guest experience and knowledge. Visit the Seawolf Brewery and pair your favorite beers with your favorite foods.

SCORPION BREWING COMPANY

Giving a nod to the rich history of its home in northern Calvert County, Maryland, Scorpion Brewing Company is proud to be a Microbrewery that produces their beer using local ingredients. This Microbrewery allows them to embrace their flexibility, adaptability, and experimentation to make their tasty brews. Because of the relaxed atmosphere, their intimate tasting room will make you feel right at home while you enjoy some of their classics and new tastings.

The beer garden will be opening in the spring. Guests will be able to bring snacks, sit at the long beer garden tables and enjoy this relaxing atmosphere of Calvert County Maryland.

This brewery, unlike others, is kid- and pet-friendly with available Wi-Fi, foosball and a classic arcade game called Frogger. There is fun for everyone at the Scorpion Brewing Company.

RUDDY DUCK BREWERY & GRILL

Sitting as Southern Maryland's only Microbrewery and Gastropub, Ruddy Duck Brewery & Grill serves up live music, award-winning fresh food paired with their very own artisan-crafted beer. Located in Dowell, Maryland, their specialty is making a local neighborhood family-friendly environment that can also be a great date night spot, or a hangout with your squad. Try their specialty Ugly Duckling burger, made with duck and pork, grilled onions on a pretzel bun, paired with their Weizenbock Dark German Craft Beer that'll keep you coming back for more.

GREENSPRING BREWING COMPANY

 not yet open to the public*

Committed to using methodologies and techniques that provide the highest quality of their craft ales and lagers, Greenspring Brewing Company commits to making small batches of their specialty beer. Located in Calvert County, their ale is sure to warm you up with their "art, science and fun" combination. They cater to an eclectic collection of people with a plurality of tastes, with a goal to provide beers that reflect and satisfy diversity.

MULLY'S BREWERY

Mully's Brewery operates as a family-owned brewery that focuses on making their customers feel right at home. Located in the heart of Southern Maryland in Prince Frederick since 2013, Cindy and Jason Mullikin built their brewery on the foundation of family first. Whether visiting for a Beer Pairing Dinner or Oyster and Stout night, Mully's laid-back atmosphere has been the home to award-winning traditional beers with a focus on Pale Ale, IPA, Blonde and Stout, with a few surprises along the way. Visit their tap room for some exclusive samples of their "Scratch Series" brews, and catch the Mullikin family in action.

CALVERT BREWING COMPANY

Calvert Brewing Company, originally Maryland's first designated farm brewery, has a dedication to pride, loyalty, and quality for their brews. They are immensely committed to building a better beer, while leaving their products unfiltered and full of ingredients that make their beer so great. Whether you're new to craft beer or are an avid craft beer drinker, they make craft options that fit all tastes. They provide a list of year-round beers that are unique and steadily growing.

They also have a taproom in Upper Marlboro, the first of its kind in Prince George's County, that is open to the public Wednesdays through Saturdays. This taproom holds events and tours almost every day. Stop by Calvert Brewing Company to take a tour, try the beers, and visit their beer garden for a day full of fun. ❖

by Josh McCormick

There are few pleasures greater in life than drinking a cold beer on a hot summer's day. Now that those warm summer days are almost upon us, we are starting to move away from our dark and heavy brews, to lighter and more refreshing beers such as IPAs and Blonde Ales.

India Pale Ales are a classic hoppy style of beer perfect for relaxing on those summer days. They originated in England in the late 1700's, when brewers tried to create a beer that could withstand the six-month sail from England to the export market in India without a decrease in quality. To do this, they brewed a beer with a high alcohol content and added more hops. The antimicrobial properties of the hops acted as a natural preservative and prevented spoilage on these long journeys.

The result was a strong and bitter-tasting beer, dominated by the hoppy flavour. Due to this, IPAs are often considered to be an acquired taste. However, once it is acquired, it is very hard to find another style of beer that quite matches them in terms of flavour and aromas. Many IPAs can also be described as having a fruity, flowery, or citrusy taste depending on what style of hops were used in brewing.

India pale ales fell slightly to the wayside with the advent of refrigerated transportation and faster steamships, but have enjoyed a major resurgence recently with the flourishing craft

IPAS AND BLONDE ALES

IPAS AND BLONDE ALES

Here are a few suggestions to try from our Southern Maryland Brewers:

CHESAPEAKE BREWING COMPANY – Watermans Soul IPA

SEAWOLF BREWERY – Ego Alley IPA

CALVERT BREWING – Route 4 IPA

GREENSPRING BREWING COMPANY – Pound Foolish IPA

MULLEYS BREWERY – Marc Six Blonde

RUDDY DUCK BREWERY – IPALOT

SCORPION BREWERY – Indian IPA

beer movement and are now the best-selling style of craft beer in America.

There are three main styles of IPA nowadays; American Style, English Style and Double or Imperial Style. English Style IPAs have more of a smooth taste with a pronounced bitter finish compared to the stronger and hoppier flavour of American IPAs. Double IPAs are another American Style, made with even more hops, but also slightly more malt to balance. They have very strong hoppy flavours and a higher alcohol content than the others, leading to a much more intense IPA! For summer drinking, however, “session” IPAs are a popular choice due to their lower ABVs.

If you aren't a fan of bitter, hoppy beers, another style that is perfect for enjoying in summer are Blonde Ales. They are an easy drinker, and while some of these may have a slight hop aroma, in general their flavour tends to have a breadly maltiness. They are a perfect summer beer, light and with a much more balanced flavour than IPA's; many have a hint of fruitiness or citrus which makes them brilliantly refreshing on a hot summers day! ❖

FAVORITE Summer BEER

Whether it's on the beach or in the back yard, we all try to stay cool in the summer! What is best to sip on at a BBQ on a hot summer day? We asked our staff their favorite Maryland summer beer that helps keep them cool.

KEVIN ATTICKS

I love Route 4 IPA from Calvert Brewing Company. It's super good, easy drinking, and from Southern Maryland!

LAUREN TUCKER

To me... summer is cracking a Union Craft Brewing's Old Pro Gose. The combination of salt and tart is deliciously thirst-quenching on a hot day. I especially love the special edition, Italian plum!

KELLY DUDECK

If I'm looking for a refreshing light-bodied beer, my go-to is Old Oriole Park's Bohemian Lager, at 4.5%. If I'm looking for something a little brighter, that packs a little more of a punch, I'll grab a Brewer's Art Beazly Golden Ale - a Belgian Strong Pale Ale, coming in at 7.3%.

JANNA HOWLEY

Manor Hill's Grisette Farmhouse Ale at 4.7%. Why? Because it's just way too easy to drink when it's warm out... nicely balanced hops, bright and lovely nose.

CALLIE PFEIFFER

For me, nothing beats a good cider at a summer BBQ! I will always reach for a Red Shedman Hard Cider. I love that it's made with fresh local ingredients. Whether it's apple, raspberry, or ginger, it really keeps me refreshed on a hot summer day! ❖

Southern Maryland

by Rachel Dolle

Southern Maryland consists of scenic byways, national parks, and waterfront properties that provide a unique and fun experience. This beautiful and picturesque part of Maryland is expanding the total number of Maryland breweries in Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's county. With so many enjoyable and adventurous activities provided in these areas, one can definitely make a fun day trip here while enjoying the warm weather this spring and summer.

This area holds six breweries with one on the way for visitors to explore and enjoy the tastes of craft local brews. Our spotlight focuses on a beer store and restaurant combined, a fun and relaxing brewery and an introduction to our spotlight ambassador as well. We hope you enjoy our suggestions and take a trip to Southern Maryland this season to experience everything this place has to offer!

OLD LINE FINE WINE, SPIRITS AND BISTRO

Old Line Fine Wine, Spirits and Bistro, located in the northern part of Prince George's county in Beltsville, is a one-of-a-kind restaurant and liquor store in one. Founded in 2012 by Larry Pendleton IV, this restaurant and store has pleased local guests along with many other visitors. It is a casual venue located near the University of Maryland. Mr. Pendleton welcomes all guests; locals, businesses, and College Park students.

When entering Old Line, you will first walk into their massive liquor store, which is full of Maryland brews. If a guest wants anything specific that this store doesn't hold, the owners will gladly take orders and get this product specifically for you. This wonderful service is what keeps the guests coming back for more.

Once you're done in the liquor store, you will then make your way to the restaurant. These local brews are served in the dining area as well as the full bar. Many of these brews are constantly rotated out for other ones for the guests to try, but any one brew can be brought back by request. Pendleton loves to support all of Maryland's local breweries and is not picky about any specific one. The guests love supporting the local brews as well.

Enhancing the guest experience is most important to them. With seating for about 100 people, almost any event can be held here at this venue such as birthdays, work parties, and college events. This comfortable, casual restaurant is good for groups, walk-ins and take out, while emphasizing fresh food, good service and a great selection with the lowest prices. Many guests have had nothing but great things to say about Old Line: "Great selection of craft beers," "Any beer you ever want to drink," and "Good food and great service" are just some of the comments from these happy guests.

Old Line Fine Wine, Spirits, and Bistro offers daily specials, discounts and in-store tastings. So make your way to Beltsville, Maryland to stop by for a great meal and a Maryland craft brew. ❖

CHESAPEAKE BREWING COMPANY

With their focus on small Maryland breweries, Chesapeake Brewing Company has inclusive taps of other local Maryland breweries. The goal of David and Carolyn is to encourage Marylanders and tourists to indulge in Maryland beer. Once a month, the brewery embarks on a party bus tour, allowing guests to visit and taste four breweries in four hours. Hitting a few staples of Maryland from Peabody to Union Craft, Carolyn and David strive to maintain their relationships with the other local breweries.

The brewery focuses on a variety of craft beer. The heritage series consists of Marsh Mud, Chesapeake Brewing Company upholds a tradition of heritage, military and Maryland State when it comes to their craft beer. With a passion for chemistry and an eye for business, David and Carolyn Marquis opened Chesapeake Brewing Company in 2008 before moving from Crisfield to Annapolis in 2016.

Located near the water of historic Annapolis, Chesapeake Brewing Company maintains the small-town Maryland feel by their focus on the Naval Academy nearby. “Keep Calm and Beat Army” surrounds the brewery. David Marquis graduated from the Naval Academy in ‘85, and the brewery echos the pride of Annapolis in their Golden Lager: BEAT ARMY.

Oyster Stout, Tangier Dry Hopped Amber, and Waterman's Soul IPA. The state series highlights the Watch Dog Double IPA, inspired by the Maryland State Comptroller, and the military series focuses on the Navy, but a BEAT NAVY Black IPA is in the works.

Chesapeake Brewing Company provides a cozy atmosphere that uses accents of dark wood to add warmth and a comfort level that adds to their friendly service and excellent bartenders. The spot offers spaces for the extroverted customer with an open space and an array of bar tables, but also provides the introvert a place to take a quiet moment on their cozy couch.

So sit back, enjoy a beer, and bring an appetite. Chesapeake Brewing Company pairs enticing beer with savory food to hit the beer and food lover's cravings. They provide many sharables, salads, seafood, burgers, flatbreads and of course, desserts. ❖

The Beer Ambassador who believes agriculture and nutrition leads to a happier, longer life. A spotlight on Kim Rush Lynch, Beer Ambassador

From owning a farmer's market, educating students, advocating for local breweries to be included in ordinances, and having an upbeat look at the power of food, Kim is a powerhouse for agriculture advocacy in Southern Maryland.

Kim Rush Lynch has lived in Maryland her whole life and knew from an early age that she wanted to work with local Maryland growing. Staying true to her roots, she first chased the dream of plant science, before quickly learning that she wanted to work hands on within the art of communication and education.

"I thought I might want to go the research route, but quickly learned I wanted to be hands on. I decided to get involved in environmental education in St. Mary's County, and then also work on an organic farm in the Northwest."

With over 15 years of experience working with health and diet advocacy, Kim's expertise is in developing food plans and menus for those who would normally not do so.

As someone who focuses on the combination of health and socialization, Kim believes that enjoying a beer socially has the power to make a huge impact on the health of her clients.

"There is a personal aspect to drinking. Taking the time, coming together and sitting around a table to enjoy beer helps increase connections and decrease stress. People get to play and be themselves while enjoying a beer."

When it comes to spring and summer in Southern Maryland, Kim enjoys crabmeat and a Calvert IPA to kick back on the patio and enjoy time with her friends.

Her goals for the future include making recommendations to re-write ordinances in terms of breweries and distilleries in Southern Maryland. She wants to make it easier for breweries to have freedom to grow and brew.

Kim lives by a simple mission: "Eat, Play, Love. Eat local, play every day, and love yourself unconditionally." ❖

Baja Style Fish Tacos

Serves 6 to 8

BEER BATTER:

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 cup dark Maryland beer
(We suggest Union's Balt Altbier)

Combine the flour, salt, and pepper in a medium-sized bowl. Gradually add in a dark Southern Maryland beer of your choosing, while mixing the dry ingredients together. Set aside and let the batter settle for 15 minutes before using.

CREAM SAUCE:

- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ⅓ cup sour cream
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon zest
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons water
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper

Add the mayonnaise and sour cream into a medium-sized bowl. Whisk the lemon zest, lemon juice and water into that medium-sized bowl. Add salt and pepper until it tastes good (can be made three days ahead, covered and refrigerated).

FISH TACOS:

- Oil, for frying
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon of salt, plus more for seasoning
- 2 pounds skinned halibut cut into 5-by-½-inch strips
- Freshly ground black pepper
- Corn tortillas
- 2 cups shredded cabbage
- 2 cups tomatillo salsa (optional)
- Pickled jalapenos (optional)

In a large skillet, over medium heat, add a 1-inch depth level of oil. Heat the oil until the deep-fry thermometer registers 350 degrees F or when the end of a wooden spoon sizzles when placed into the oil.

On a large plate, combine the flour and salt. Season the fish pieces all over with salt and pepper, then coat with flour. Working with batches, dip the fillets in the beer batter and coat on both sides. Fry the fillets in the hot oil until they are golden brown and cooked through. This should take about 5 minutes. Transfer to paper towels to drain.

Make tacos with the tortillas and fish, and top each with cream, shredded cabbage, tomatillo salsa, and pickled jalapenos, if desired. Serve and enjoy.
